

I am a ham radio operator. Using powerlines to transmit a broadband which is an open none shielded method to make such a connection is a bad idea. Causes high interference levels in HF communication It ca
It is illegal in a number of countries for this very reason.
Because it is a open unshielded system it is open to interference By terrorists wanting to disrupt the network.